Re: Nomination of Danylo Korbabicz for IFLRY Treasurer

Dear Liberal Friends:

I am pleased to announce that I will be seeking a second term with the IFLRY Executive Bureau, this time in the capacity of IFLRY Treasurer. I am grateful for the encouragement of my party, many of my bureau colleagues, various international officers, and importantly the two previous Bureau members to hold this office: Daniel George of Germany and Joao Guedes of Brazil. I have worked with both in IFLRY capacities extensively and they deserve immense credit for keeping IFLRY's financial house in order.

The outgoing Executive Bureau has accomplished a great deal together. The professionalism of our activities has clearly increased, the frequency of events and participation likewise, and for a first time in many years we are on solid financial footing as an organization. As is always the case, however, more remains to be done. A sustainable charitable foundation for our political activities, a better donation structure for the public, and a more cohesive alumni network to name a few.

Given the complexity of our operational grants from international organizations and foundations, evolving staffing needs, and use of multiple currencies, amongst other things, I believe it is crucial that the next IFLRY Treasurer is a returning bureau member. It is by far the role that requires the most institutional memory and comprehensive knowledge of our organization.

I have been an active Canadian young liberal since the age of 14, and have an evolving history with IFLRY. I took over responsibility for the Young Liberals of Canada international program in challenging times for our party. In that environment I managed to participate in every IFLRY seminar, took a leading role in some of IFLRY's programmes, and eventually was elected to serve on the IFLRY Bureau.

My commitment to this organization has been repeatedly demonstrated and I have a wide set of management, financial, and professional experiences (including managing a $1.4 million non-profit) that would serve the next Bureau well.

With the Liberal Party of Canada's recent election victory and the message of progressive optimism enumerated by Prime Minister Justin Trudeau around the world - I am convinced Canadian Liberal values are a positive force in the world and are needed more than ever. As my organization re-engages more fully on the world stage, I am confident that I and my colleagues have a lot to offer.

Yours in Liberalism,

Danylo Korbabicz Outgoing IFLRY Vice-President
Young Liberals of Canada International Officer (2012-2015)
