The Independent Peoples Party –IPP youth wing, Young Independents of Ghana -YIG is committed to the view that the dignity of each individual man and woman is the cardinal principle of democratic society and the primary purpose of all political organization and activity in such a society.

The Young Independent of Ghana is dedicated to the principles of individual freedom, Responsibility and human dignity in the framework of a just society, and political freedom in the framework of meaningful participation by all persons. The YIG is bound by the constitution of Ghana and is committed to the pursuit of equality of opportunity for all persons, to the enhancement of our unique and diverse cultural community. In accordance with this philosophy, the Young Independent of Ghana subscribes to the fundamental rights and freedoms of persons under the rule of law and commits itself to the protection of these essential values and their constant adaptation to the changing needs of modern Ghanaian society.

The Young Independent of Ghana (YIG) recognizes that human dignity in a democratic system requires that all citizens have access to full information concerning the policies and leadership of the Party; the opportunity to participate in open and public assessment of such means, and such modifications of policies and leadership as they deem desirable to promote the political, economic, social, cultural and general well-being of Ghanaians.

To realize this objective, the Independent Peoples Party of Ghana strives to provide a flexible and democratic structure whereby all Ghanaians can obtain such information, participate in such assessment and militate for such reform through open communications, free dialogue and participatory action both electoral and non-electoral.

The constitution of the independents people's party sets forth the institutions, systems and procedures by which the Independent Peoples Party of Ghana intend to implement these Ideas on behalf of all its members.
