3.5 Chairs and Returning Officers

The General Assembly shall elect 4 (four) chairpersons to chair the sessions. The chairs shall not be running for other elections. The chairs will also chair the four standing committees, unless otherwise agreed by the GA.

The chair shall appoint three (3) returning officers to administer elections and conduct the ballot. The returning officers shall be persons not standing for elections.

The returning officers shall announce the deadline for nominations for auditors.

3.6 Elections

For Bureau elections and appointments to the Advisory Council those candidacies are valid that were received in writing by the IFLRY office 4 (four) weeks before the start of the General Assembly.

3.6.1 President, Secretary General and Treasurer elections

The President, the Secretary General and the Treasurer shall be elected by simply majority vote. In the event none of the candidates to each of these positions receives more than 50% of the votes, there will be additional rounds of voting until the required majority is achieved.

In each of the additional rounds, those who receive the least number of votes, in such a way that even if the votes of those who received less than them could be added to their votes would not change their position, will not participate in the next round.

3.6.2 Vice President Elections

The vice presidents of the organisation shall be elected as follows: On each ballot paper the member organisations select the candidates that should be elected as Vice- Presidents in such a way that they mark the names of their choice. Each marked candidate will receive one vote. Each member organization must vote on the same number of candidates as the number of positions that must be filled. Voting ballots that do not have the full number of candidates as positions that must be filled will be counted as invalid. The 4 candidates with the most votes are elected in the order of the amount of votes. Only candidates reaching the quorum defined by the following formula are elected: $1 / (\text{the positions available for election} + 1)$ will be eligible for election, meaning i.e. that for 4 Vice-President positions the quorum will be $1 / (4+1) = 20\%$ of the total votes possible. For 3 positions the formula will be $1 / (3+1) = 25\%$ of the total votes possible. For two (2) positions the quorum will be $1 / (2+1) = 33,33\%$ of the total votes possible. In case of only one (1) vacant position for a round of election, the principle of simple majority shall be used, as is the case with the positions of President, Secretary General and Treasurer as well.

In case that there are not enough candidates reaching the quorum of the votes, a new round of voting will be held for the remaining place(s). If there are not enough candidates reaching the quorum in the second round of voting, the position will remain vacant until a new call for elections is issued at the next General Assembly. If there are more selections on the ballot paper than the number of the Vice-Presidents' positions to be elected, the ballot paper is considered invalid. The ballot will also be invalid if it is not possible to identify the names on the ballot. If candidates receive an equal number of votes and it remains unclear which candidates shall be elected, then a second round of voting between these candidates is to be conducted using the above mentioned procedure. Should in this second round of voting, an equal number of votes remain, then lots will be drawn to determine the winner.

3.6.3 Auditor elections

For the election of auditors the ballot can be filled with one (1) or two (2) names. Each name will count as one (1) vote. It is not possible to give more than one (1) vote to one (1) candidate on each ballot. The two (2) candidates who received the highest number of votes shall be elected Auditors. In case of resignation of an Auditor, the next person on the last Auditor election results list sorted on highest number of votes will replace the vacancy.

3.6.4 Advisory Council Appointments

For the appointment of the first Advisory Council, Advisory Council members will be proposed by the Bureau to the General Assembly. After that, the Advisory council will propose new members to the General Assembly whenever an Advisory Council position becomes vacant. In both cases, they will be appointed by the General Assembly through a simple majority vote.

3.6.5 Expulsion and replacement

It is the right of a General Assembly, both ordinary and extraordinary, to put the mandate of an elected person in question and to terminate that mandate following a motion of no- confidence with a two- thirds (2/3) majority.

Following an expulsion of an elected person it is the right of the General Assembly to immediately elect a replacement. The newly elected Bureau member or auditor will have a period of mandate that expires at the next General Assembly.

In case of a resignation of a Bureau member, the Bureau has the power to appoint a replacement in a non-voting capacity until the next General Assembly, provided there is no meeting of the General Assembly in the following thirty (30) days.

Those resolutions shall be dealt with, which, in the opinion of the General Assembly could not have been proposed before the official deadline due to their urgent nature. 3.8 Standing Committees

4. Bureau

The Bureau members will be mutually responsible for all its activities. The President, Secretary General and Treasurer function as the core-three responsible for the day-to-day activities of the Federation. Newly elected for Vice-Presidents need to communicate their areas of responsibility to the IFLRY Member Organisations after the first Bureau meeting of their terms in office.

A quorum of more than 50% of the Bureau members with voting rights is needed in order for a decision to be valid.

If a Bureau member fails to attend more than 3 Bureau Meetings in a row, without explaining the reason for not attending, their position will be discussed by the Bureau. The Bureau may suspend the Bureau member in question, by a 2/3 majority vote.

Moreover, the Bureau can also call a vote to suspend a Bureau member if that member has become a serious liability to IFLRY's reputation, is suspected of some serious misconduct, or is suspected of fraudulent behaviour. Such a vote has to be called for by at least 3 Bureau members, and announced to the Bureau and MOs at least 2 weeks before the Bureau vote for suspension. The announcement has to include the grounds on which the 3 Bureau members believe this paragraph to be applicable. For this vote the member whom is proposed to be suspended has no vote, and the vote is carried if and only if no present Bureau member vote against it, and a majority of Bureau votes cast being in favour (counting present abstentions as votes cast).

A suspension removes a Bureau member from his or her position up to and including the next GA, unless a simple majority of the Bureau vote to remove the suspension. In a case where the suspension still stands, there will be a vote of no confidence against the suspended member organised as per the procedure in Article 3.6.5 Expulsion and replacement at the next General Assembly. If the motion of no-confidence fails the member is reinstated. If a motion of no-confidence is carried, elections organised as per the procedure in Article 3.6.5 Expulsion and replacement.

If a Bureau member is suspended, the subsequent vacant position can be filled by the remaining bureau, under the same regulations as that for resigning Bureau members under Article 3.6.5 Expulsion and replacement.

4.1 Term

The President, the Secretary General and Treasurer are elected for the period of two (2) years until the next General Assembly. The four Vice-Presidents are elected for the period of one (1) year until the next General Assembly. Notwithstanding the right of the General Assembly to put the Bureau on question and to force Bureau Members to resign.

4.2 Bureau obligations

4.2.1 Action Plan

Every newly elected Bureau shall draft an Action Plan for the whole mandate within the next two (2) months after its election. The Plan will specify which Bureau member is responsible for which tasks and objectives. The Action Plan will then be submitted to the AC for consultation. The AC will give feedback on the Action Plan to the Bureau, including in a meeting as per article 5.3.5. After this, a revised version will be sent to the member organisations, no later than two (2) months after the Bureau's election. The Action Plan will be adopted at the first General Assembly after the General Assembly in which the Bureau is elected.

4.2.2 Annual and Interim Report

Once a year, the Bureau will submit a draft Annual Report to the AC, at least one (1) month before the start of the General Assembly. The Annual Report outlines the achievements of the organisation in relation to the objectives laid down in the Action Plan. The AC will then respond with comments and suggestions before a final version is adopted jointly by the Bureau and the AC. The joint Annual Report is then submitted to the Member Organisations for adoption at the General Assembly, no later than two (2) weeks before the GA. The Annual Report will be presented at the General Assembly.

If there is more than one statutory meeting every year, the Bureau will present an interim report to show the current status of the realisation of the Action Plan. The procedure and timeframe for this are the same as with the Annual Report.

4.2.3 Bureau Reports

The Bureau is required to submit a draft Bureau Report to the AC one (1) month before the start of each General Assembly. This report will reflect the work carried out by each individual Bureau member since the last General Assembly. The AC will then respond with comments and suggestions before a final version is adopted jointly by the Bureau and the AC. The Bureau Report will then be sent to the Member Organisations at least two (2) weeks before the start of the General Assembly. This report will be presented at the General Assembly.”

5. Advisory Council

The Advisory Council (AC) members will be mutually responsible for all its activities.

If an AC member fails to attend more than three (3) AC meetings in a row, without explaining the reason for not attending, their position will be discussed by the AC. The AC may suspend the AC member in question, by a 2/3 majority vote.

Moreover, the AC can also call a vote to suspend an AC member if that member has become a serious liability to IFLRY's reputation, is suspected of some serious misconduct, or is suspected of fraudulent behaviour. Such a vote can be called for by any AC member and has to be announced to the Bureau and MOs at least 2 weeks before the AC vote for suspension. The announcement has to include the grounds on which the AC member(s) believe this paragraph to be applicable. For this vote, the member who is proposed to be suspended has no vote, and the vote is carried if and only if no present AC member votes against it, and a majority of AC members' votes cast being in favour (counting present abstentions as votes cast).

A suspension removes an AC member from his or her position up to and including the next GA unless a simple majority of the AC votes to lift the suspension. In a case where the suspension still stands, there will be a vote of no confidence against the suspended member organised as per the procedure in Article 3.6.5 Expulsion and Replacement at the next General Assembly. If the motion of no-confidence fails the member is reinstated. If a motion of no-confidence is carried out, a replacement will be appointed by the GA as per the procedure in Article 3.6.4 Advisory Council Appointments.

5.1 Chair

The AC will elect a chair after every change in its membership, or whenever it sees fit. The chair will be elected by a simple majority. The AC will see to it that the result of this election is related to the Bureau, the Office and the Member Organisations.

5.2 Term

A member of the AC is elected for a period of two (2) years until the next General Assembly. A member can then decide on their own to serve another term. This decision has to be confirmed by the General Assembly. They can however serve no more than two consecutive terms.

5.3 AC Responsibilities and Obligations

5.3.1 Action Plan

As specified in Article 4.2.1 Action Plan, the AC will provide feedback and advice to the Bureau about its draft Action Plan before it is sent to the member organisations.

5.3.2 Guidance and support with individual projects

At the request of the Bureau, the AC can be called upon to provide guidance and support on specific topics. This could be the development of a project the Bureau wants to implement, guiding meetings, and providing the Bureau with support when communicating with external parties. The AC will offer support whenever appropriate. The Bureau can approach the AC for support at any time.

5.3.3 Relations with the Bureau

The Secretary-General will keep the AC informed on issues within the Bureau, even when they can be resolved without the AC's involvement. However it is not the job of the AC to manage the Bureau, but merely to observe, give advice and offer help when appropriate.

5.3.4 Regular meeting AC and SG/G3

In order to facilitate the AC in the execution of the above-named tasks, the Secretary-General will have a meeting with the AC at least once every three months. The President and Treasurer are also entitled to join this meeting. In addition, a meeting will be held with the outgoing SG after the handover to a new Bureau. The outgoing President and Treasurer are also entitled to attend this meeting. The exact moments these meetings occur will be decided jointly by the AC and SG/G3 (i.e. President, SG and Treasurer), but they should be held within this timeframe:

5.3.5 Relationship to the GA

No later than two weeks before every General Assembly, the AC and the Bureau will submit joint reports on the overall performance of the Federation, which includes the progress on the Action Plan and reports by every Bureau member on their work since the last General Assembly. For a more detailed description of the process, see 4.2.2 and 4.2.3.

5.3.6 Recommending new members

If there are vacancies on the AC, the AC has a duty to recommend new members to the General Assembly.

5.3.7 Eligibility

To ensure an adequate understanding of the workings of an organisation like IFLRY, a candidate for AC membership must have at least two years of experience in an elected or managerial position in the liberal network.

5.3.8 Conflict of Interest

To avoid any conflict of interest, AC members are not allowed to be active in IFLRY in any other capacity. Furthermore, they are only allowed to attend General Assemblies, and do so in an observatory capacity.

6. Auditors

It is the responsibility of the auditors to make their annual report available once a year to the member organisations 2 (two) weeks before the General Assembly takes place.

7. Ombudsperson

It is the responsibility of the ombudsperson to make their annual report available once a year to the member organisations 2 (two) weeks before the General Assembly takes place.

8. Office

This report will reflect the work carried out by the Office, including the Executive Director and other staff and will be presented at the General Assembly.

9. Rules of Procedure

The interpretation of these Rules of Procedure shall be subject to the ruling of the General Assembly. Where the Statutes or the Rules of Procedure cannot be applied, the General Assembly decides. In cases of contradiction between the Rules of Procedure and the Statutes of the association, the Statutes take precedence.

Every proposal that aims to change these Rules of Procedure must be submitted to the Office at least 4 (four) weeks prior to the General Assembly, or one (1) week after the announcement of an Extraordinary General Assembly. The proposal is adopted if decided by a two-thirds (2/3) majority.
